Elba School Board conducts special called meeting on superintendent's contract

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba Board of Education held a special called meeting Thursday evening, April 11, where the current contract of Superintendent Chris Moseley was discussed.

Before the board began its discussion regarding the contract, there was a request from a community member to address the board. Prior to turning the floor over to that person, board president Johnny Senn announced to the crowd gathered inside the central office that the person would be allowed three uninterrupted minutes to speak. He added that should there be any outburst from someone in the audience that said person would be removed.

Elba alumnus and parent of a current student Raecan McCollough addressed the board.

"Elba has always been and will always be my home," she said. "I walked in that elementary school building as the first fifth grade class in the new school after the 1990 flood. I was preceded in walking the halls of Elba by my father, my mother, two older brothers, and I had a younger brother come through after me."

McCollough said she is the parent of a current ninth grade student at Elba High School, and she has a 3-year-old child that already knows to wear black and gold every Friday no matter what.

"To say Elba City Schools is important to me is an understatement," she said. "My history runs deep."

In her 42 years as an Elba Tiger, McCollough said the Elba facilities have never been better. She added that

The Elba Board of Education members listen to Superintendent Chris Moseley as he presents his report during the regular monthly board meeting held Tuesday evening, April 16, at the central office. Moseley assured board members during Tuesday night's meeting that he was going to 'bust his hump' for them for the next six months or however long he is employed to do a good job. He said they should all work together as a team for Elba City Schools.

plans have been made and put in place to better the environment for the future too.

"Elba is second to none in the Class 1A classification, and the current administration has done its job in retaining to make sure Elba keeps its bragging rights,"

McCollough said. "There is new paint, new tables, new floors, new technology in the classrooms classrooms, new grass on playing fields, and just recently renovation work began on the outdoor classroom."

She said state report cards were released in December with Elba Elementary School receiving an unheard of 12-point percentile increase in its score. The high school followed suit with an 8-point increase give the system an overall 9-point increase on its report card from the state. "I personally witnessed teachers, coaches, and administrators encouraging our students during the testing," McCollough said. "Our students went above and beyond to prove Elba still has what it takes to produce highly educated and prosperous students."

In sports, she noted that football went to the final four, girls basketball went to the final fours, and girls volleyball made it to the elite eight, along with the school having back-to-back state champs in golf recently.

"I haven't even mentioned our academic awards because it would take entirely too long," McCollough added. "Now that I have stated these facts, I just have one simple question to ask you board members. What is it that you are wanting to change?"

She added, "school spirit is at an all-time high. Our students are wearing black

Special agents with ALEA's SBI launch investigation into shooting

Special agents with the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency's (ALEA) State Bureau of Investigation (SBI) launched an investigation in Coffee County last week after receiving a request from the Coffee County District Attorney's Office, according to a press release sent out Friday afternoon, April 12, by ALEA officials.

The statement from ALEA indicated the investigation was for an alleged shooting at a residence in Coffee County, owned by a representative of the Elba City School Board. That residence is in the city limits of Elba.

Special agents were notified at approximately 6:40 p.m. on Thursday, April 11, regarding the incident and the request from the District Attorney's office. Reportedly, no one was injured during the shooting.

While the official release from ALEA did not identify the school board member, other reports circulating noted it was the residence of Elba School Board president Johnny Senn. He also is a retired SBI agent with ALEA and is currently serving as a part-time investigator with the 12th Judicial Circuit District Attorney's Office.

The Elba Police dispatch report shows a vandalism was reported at 6:42 p.m. last Thursday evening at 130 Stroud Avenue in Elba, which is the road in which Senn resides.

ALEA officials ask that anyone with information related to the incident contact ALEA at (334) 983-4587. Nothing further has been released from investigators at this time, but the investigation is ongoing.

The Elba Volunteer Fire Department responded Wednesday morning, April 10, to a house fire on Hwy. 87 S in Elba. The call came in at 10:50 a.m. Mutual aid was requested from several other local departments to help battle the fire. The departments worked together to extinguish the blaze. No injuries were reported from this fire incident.

Inmate dies at Coffee County Jail following medical emergency

On Wednesday, April 10, at approximately 1:41 a.m., the Enterprise Police Department arrested Chad Jones, age 45, of Gadsden, Ala. on the charge of Public Intoxication, according to a press release from the Coffee County Sheriff's Office.

Following his arrest, while in custody of the Coffee County Jail, Jones experienced a medical emergency. Enterprise Rescue and the New Brockton Fire Department responded to the Coffee County Jail but was unable to revive Jones.

No foul play is suspected; however, Sheriff Scott Byrd requested The Alabama Law Enforcement Agency conduct an investigation into the incident.

The Sheriff, the District Attorney, and the County Coroner have requested an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death. The investigation is ongoing and no further information is available at this time.

employee or a concern from a parent. If I don't know there is something that ya'll think is wrong, I can't try to fix it. I can't."

He went further to say that former board member Greg Sowell and he used to talk at least once every week about an issue with a school bus in Sowell's district. He said they stayed on it until it was fixed. "I am going to bust my tail for you all for the next six months or however long that looks," Moseley said.

The superintendent said he had been involved with more discussions that day [Tuesday] with board members than he had been for a long time.

"That is the way it ought to be," he said. "Nobody has come in that office or called me with a concern from an

No board member denied what he was saying.

"We have got to use these six months," Moseley continued. "We are Elba City Schools, and we've got to be a team whether it is six months or whatever it is. It is end of the school year, and there is lots to do. Then, we have the opening of a new school year. I am going to bust my tail to make sure those go off as good as possible."

In other business Tuesday night, the board voted unanimously to approve the superintendent's recommendation to terminate CNP employee Kadra Vignola. This vote came after a 15-20 minute executive session.

The board also voted to non-renew CNP employee Ciarra Magwood.

Earlier in the meeting Magwood addressed the board over a concern she has with the school. "I am here because we have been having issues with my son being bullied in school. I have had enough. I have a paper trail," Magwood said. "I have been in communication with administration all year and nothing has been done."

She added that she had reached out to the board members on occasions to give them a chance to step in, and that she had reached out to the state. She said state officials had given her more steps to take, which she said she had taken.

"It is to the point my son is being threatened to be sent off," Magwood added. "He has a 504-Plan that hasn't been followed all year. I have been placed on administrative leave for going down the hall last week to check on my son. I am on administrative leave because some kids heard me tell a teacher I was going to do a police report."

She said she did not understand what was so negative about that. She indicated other administrators had cussed kids and provoked them to hit them.

"I don't see what is the big deal about me," she said. "The whole time I have been employed with Elba City Schools it has been about trying to find a way to fire me. I have had enough. At this point it is not about employment anymore, but it is about my child. That is all I have to say. It is in the board's hands."

The superintendent thanks Magwood for her comments, but no one from the board addressed the comments.

Prior to the meeting adjourning, board member DeAnn Grantham did thank those in the audience for attending the meeting. She said it is encouraging to board members to see the community there and involved.

"It shows us you do care about what we are doing here," Grantham said.

Jaelynn Green enjoyed her first t-ball game for the Elba youth baseball/softball season Thursday evening, April 4th. It also just happened to be her 5th Birthday!! The birthday girl was all smiles as she enjoyed playing the game at Hawkins-Williams Park in Elba with her friends.

Cuzin Lou Lou and Sister have agreed on something...believe it or not!

Last year, Papa constructed a new garage to house Lou 2 when she is not in use. After the construction phase ended, Lou Lou and Papa made a trip to a home improvement store to purchase paint for the outside of the building. Well...that did not turn out so well.

The moment the paint went on, Sister let it be known the color was "absolutely gaudy" and it was a terrible choice made by Lou Lou and Papa. Lou Lou agreed the color did not look good, but she insisted the store folks must have messed up in mixing the paint because that did not look the same as what she picked out!

Fast forward to last weekend, and this time Lou Lou took Sister with her to the home improvement store. The two agreed on a shade of gray to paint the garage this time.

After a hearty breakfast Saturday morning, the two put on their painting clothes and went to work! They were close to being halfway done before Papa even ventured out to take a look at the progress.

When he did make it out there, Lou Lou jokingly asked, "Are you here to tell us what we are doing wrong?"

Papa just smiled, and insisted he was just there to check out the work... At one point, Sister took a quick break and Papa grabbed her paint roller to help a little, but Sister quickly took the job back over.

"I've got this!" she insisted.

Once the job was finished, the Gang looked it over and all had to admit that it did look much, much better with the gray color! It was truly unbelievable the difference the "right" color made.

Of course, Sister took the credit for that, and while she and Lou Lou did pick the color out together, Lou Lou allowed Sister to have the final say over the color. Her reasoning behind that was in case something went wrong again, this time it would be Sister's fault!

The good news is no one gets blame this time for picking a bad color, and Papa's girls proved they are very capable when it comes painting a building...that paint job is a good one!!

The event better news is Sister is happy, and when Sister is happy, the whole Gang is happy!!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

Windy Thoughts

with Linda Hodge, Editor

While Mr. Ferrin Cox remains away from the office on medical leave, I thought it might be time to take shot at some editorial commentary...however, I am going to go with "Windy Thoughts" rather than "Brainstorms" because I am just not worthy of Mr. Ferrin's Brainstorms! Hopefully, he will soon feel up to writing his Brainstorms again, and I can let him have all the editorial chatter – whether that may be passing winds or full-on storms. He is working hard every day to do as the medical professionals suggest so he can achieve his goal of returning to the grind.

The Elba School Board meeting from last Thursday night has been the hot topic around town. It is funny that when things are going well somewhere no one really says anything, but let a controversial issue pop up or something bad happen, and everyone wants to share their thoughts. Kind of like 'good news' travels nowhere but 'bad news' travels so fast and far that no one cannot get ahead of it!

The topic of the superintendent's contract definitely created a split in opinions within the community. The interesting view we were privy to hearing following last week's meeting was that of a parent who came to said meeting with a neutral stance on the matter. We stayed some 30-45 minutes after the meeting with this parent talking in the parking lot outside the central office. This parent had questions of "what exactly just happened in there" and there were others that stopped by to talk with us with pretty much the same thoughts. So...we tried our best to explain because, well, no board members stayed around to talk to anyone.

A parent said she came to the meeting because she was interested in learning more about what was going on... she admitted not really having a strong opinion either way regarding the superintendent's contract. The meeting didn't really help her learn anything. Actually, the opposite. She left with more questions than answers. This is why we took the time to stick around and try and discuss things with her. We wanted her to feel she had someone to talk with about the matter. It was the right thing to do.

A point made to us in some of the 'after meeting' thoughts shared during the outside gathering of concerned folks was that it seemed if there were really that many people opposed to renewing the superintendent's contract someone would have been there to speak on the matter. Instead, it appeared the only ones willing to speak and share their thoughts were those interested in keeping the superintendent in place. The question posed in the parking lot was, "where were the naysayers?"

Another question asked to us was why did the board members in favor of sending the superintendent a letter indicating they do not, at the time, have intentions to renew his contract not offer any type of explanation as to why they voted that way. Instead, it was noted that the lone board member voting against the motion to send the letter was the only one to speak up and explain her position. Additionally, the point was made that the only community member on the agenda that requested to address the board spoke in favor of keeping the current superintendent in place. Now, while the board members are not required to 'give a reason' for their position/vote, we do agree it would have been nice to have heard some sort of reasoning behind it. It would have been transparent to hear both sides of the split vote from the board.

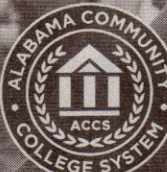

The most telling comment to us after the meeting, however, was the one where a parent said, "I expected this meeting to last much longer, but it seemed everyone had their minds made up already." The meeting lasted less than 15 minutes, and it would have been even shorter had the two people mentioned previously not spoken.

We also were asked after the meeting, what can we do now? Our response was whether you agree with or disagree with the decision made by the board, all we can tell you now is hound them. Let them know where you stand, then keep letting them know. There were folks that left the meeting happy and there were folks that left the meeting upset. The folks we took the time to stay afterwards to talk with were confused by the actions because the board did not really give any explanation behind the decision made – our opinion is they should have said something to the people there – even though they may not have been required to do it. Sometimes the "right thing" and the "required thing" are two different things. From where we sat, folks deserved more information so they would have left with better understanding – like it [the decision] or not.

We wish the community showed as much care all the time...not just when a controversial issue arises! Many times the audience at the board meetings consists of us and the central office staff. We go meeting after meeting with no parents, teachers, or other community members there. The meetings are open to the public...take time to attend, know what those appointed to the board are doing. If they are making decisions you agree with, tell them. If they are making decisions you don't agree with, tell them! Board members are appointed, by the city council, to represent the people of their respective municipal district – let them know you want a say in the decisions being made. Don't let it take something like this that has the potential to split the community be the only time you show concern. Show it all the time – the good and the bad! Otherwise, your voice may go unheard.

and gold and are proud of it. She said teachers are grinding in classroom to help the students not because it is their job but because they love Elba.

"We have a superintendent with two children enrolled in Elba, and he is focused on making this place the best it can be," McCollough said. "His home is in Elba, his paycheck is spent in Elba, he attends events in Elba.

She said Elba benefits from having a superintendent that supports the community.

"I also want to remind you all that you are in those chairs because you were appointed – to be fair, honest and represent with an unbiased opinion," McCollough said. "Elba Tigers are winning and Elba City Schools are winning. So...I ask again. What do you want to change?"

After thanking McCollough for her comments, the board president continued with the agenda.

"This meeting serves the purpose of notice to provide notice six months in advance regarding the non-renewal of the superintendent's present contract and prevent the automatic extension for an additional one year of [Moseley's] contract to come into existence," Senn said. "This written notice must be received in advance six months before the expiration of the existing contract; therefore, board members I will entertain a motion concerning the board's intention to non-renew the employment contract of Superintendent Chris Moseley regarding Section 14 of the Superintendent Moseley's current contract."

Board member Kristy Astemborski said, "I make a motion that we do not renew the superintendent's contract."

A second to that motion came from board member Debra Clark.

Senn asked for discussion, and board member DeAnn Grantham said she would like to discuss it. She said she wanted to explain the process some of how things got to where they were since none of the other board members were serving on the board when Moseley was hired.

"When I came on the board, Elba had another superintendent that resigned," she said. "Dr. Dennis Coe came in from the state at that time to help us and presented some facts. We were financially broke along with several other things."

Grantham said Dr. Coe recommended some immediate changes in employment to keep the school system from having to go to bank to borrow money.

"After we fixed some things to stop the hemorrhaging of money, we, the board members, had a discussion about hiring new superintendent."

She said Dr. Coe and board attorney Merrill Shirley presented five candidates for the job, and Coe said any of the five would be a good superintendent for Elba.

Grantham said the board members sat down and discussed together some things/goals they want to see accomplished.

"The board at the time had been through numerous superintendents," Grantham said. "We wanted someone that was going to provide consistency – someone who didn't want to use Elba as just a stepping stone. We also wanted someone who could wear multiple hats because of our finances. We could not afford to hire a federal programs coordinator."

She said the five candidates were interviewed, and the board decided Mr. Moseley was the best candidate to fulfill those goals.

When time came in 2020 to begin looking at his contract renewal, she said Gladys Yelverton was board president at that time. The board decided to have a third-party person that no one knew come in and complete an evaluation of Moseley's performance as superintendent.

"That person gave rave reviews [on his performance]," Grantham said. "After that, we entered into a new contract with him."

She said that is how such matters are normally handled and how they had been done in past.

"To be fair, I feel like that has not happened this time," Grantham said. "I don't understand why we haven't done that this time. I don't understand why we didn't move in that direction. I feel like Mr. Moseley has given us years of his life, and out of respect for him, we should have done that." She said if there were issues with Moseley, the board members could have discussed that with him.

"But...to automatically non-renew him because of a timeline...that is very disrespectful, especially when things are going in a positive direction for our school," Grantham said. "And...we still cannot afford to hire a federal programs person. Moseley still wears multiple hats today. If he is not employed here in six months, whomever is here will have to wear multiple hats."

Grantham said she just feels like someone with experience is a lot more valuable to the school system than what could be if Moseley is non-renewed for the position.

When no other board member opted to discuss the matter, Superintendent Moseley asked if he would be allowed to discuss or speak.

Senn did not acknowledge Moseley's question and moved on without answering Moseley.

"At this time, we have a motion and a second," Senn said.

He asked for the vote.

Board members Astemborski, Clark and Miranda Russell voted in favor of Astemborski's motion to non-renew. Board member Grantham opposed the motion.

Senn then tried to entertain a motion to adjourn, but the board attorney interrupted reminding him that all the business that needed conducting had not been completed.

"I need to receive a motion to allow the president of board [Johnny Senn] to notify Chris Moseley in writing that board has no present intention to renew his contract and to be accomplished by or before six months prior notice provision as required by Section 14 to avoid automatic extension," Senn said.

Said motion was made by Russell with a second from Astemborski. It too was approved by majority vote with Russell, Astemborski, and Clark voting in favor, and Grantham opposed the motion.

Senn then adjourned the meeting.

Bereaved Spouses Awareness Month

Losing a loved one is never easy but losing a spouse or life partner can be especially painful. April is Bereaved Spouses Month and in the spirit of the month, here are a few tips for supporting those who have lost a life partner or for those who have recently lost a spouse or life partner.
Do your best to be supportive to a friend or relative who recently lost a spouse: losing someone is always difficult but losing a life partner can be alienating and emotionally crippling at any age. Offer to bring over a meal or to simply offer your time and company. Respect that sometimes after a recent loss, some do not want company. Remember that spending time with someone doesn't always mean spending physical time together; sometimes a phone call or short text message is enough.
Consider taking a useful class together. Many times, after a spouse dies, there are gaps left in their loved one's life. Things like learning to cook for one or learning to cook at all, balancing checkbooks or simple housework can sometimes be bewildering to the recently bereaved. Taking a class on these topics can provide much needed social opportunities for the recently bereaved while also providing much needed life skills.
Encourage a hobby can be done with friends or alone. These hobbies can be anything from painting to gardening or photography. Trying new things can help ease some of the pain of grief for some and learning a new skill can help the transition into a new potentially more independent phase of one's life.
Helping those that have lost a loved one or spouse can be a rewarding aspect of supporting someone's grief journey. This Bereaved Spouses Month, keep your heart open, your time flexible and your mind compassionate.

ESCC announces 2024 graduation parking procedures

Parking procedures for Enterprise State Community College's 2024 graduation ceremony will be similar to last year's procedures, thanks to continuing construction of a new Performing Arts Center and other facility work on the ESCC campus, with some changes.

Graduation will be held on the green in front of Wallace Administration Building on May 9. That day, Parking Lot D (behind Forrester Hall and beside Lolley Gymnasium) will be open only to students for parking. All students will be asked to arrive on campus prior to graduation services by 3:30 pm. Students are asked to report to Boll Weevil Central (located in Snuggs Hall) once they arrive on campus. After checking in at BWC, students are welcome to have their photo taken by the College's photographer at the William "Bo" Weevil statue at the front of the campus from 3:30-5pm.

Friends, family, other spectators and overflow student parking will be located in the Crossroads Community Church (Old College Cinema) Parking Lot across the street from campus and the ESCC baseball/softball complex on George Wallace Drive. Additional overflow parking will be located at Brookwood Elementary School.

Buses will be running to each location every 15 minutes to pick up visitors. Bus drop off and pick up on campus will be located at the track behind Lolley Gymnasium. The last bus will run at approximately 5:45pm for visitor pickup. Campus police officers and college CERT members will be on scene at all off-site parking locations during the ceremony. All buses will also be available immediately after the ceremony to return visitors to their vehicles.

Handicap parking and parking for special guests will be in Parking Lot A (next to Talmadge Hall). Faculty and staff will park in the green above the track off George Wallace Drive.

Graduation services will begin at 6 p.m. under the oaks in front of Wallace Administration Building on May 9. The ceremony ny will also be streamed live on the Enterprise State Community College Facebook page.

For more information about ESCC Graduation Services, visit escc.edu/graduation.

Nanny and our number two grandson Cannon both got a little sun over the weekend as they took advantage of the beautiful sunny weather to stay outside for hours playing with his fire truck and watching birds. Cannon would live outside if you let him, and he can't wait until the temperature gets high enough so he can get in the poll. The joys of youth!

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers upped their winning streak to six games last week and have definitely set a solid foundation for Tiger teams to come with their late-season surge and improvement in all areas of play. The players deserve a lot of credit for the hard work they were willing to put in after a slow start, as do the coaches, who never quit teaching and returned to the fundamentals of the game to teach the players the 'right way' to play the game. Don't look now, but baseball is back at Elba High and better days are ahead.

 The Elba Lady Tigers split two games last week, but impressed me by bouncing back after a disappointing loss to Kinston to claim a big road win over 2A Goshen. The Elba girls could have been caught thinking about their first loss of the season. However, they rebounded in a big way and for the fifth time this season ended a win in five innings due to the ten-run rule. I know there are still a lot of big games on the schedule, including the area tournament, but the Lady Tigers have already proven they can win and hopefully will continue that trait in days to come.

 It was a busy week for teams in the area on both the baseball and softball fields, and with the playoffs just around the corner, even more excitement is ahead. Brantley won the 1A, Area 3 crown and as always will be a team to watch in the post-season, and while Kinston settled for second in its area, the Bulldogs are a solid team and have a chance to pull off a couple of upsets once the playoffs get underway. New Brockton surprised Opp in the first game of its three-game series, but then lost the next two games by a combined score of 31-2 and will have to regroup in a hurry to be a 3A contender, while Zion Chapel will miss the playoffs, but were much better than their records may make one think and continued the Rebels success on the ballfield. Over on the softball field, Zion Chapel knocked off 3A Opp and 5A Andalusia in a tournament and has to be a contender for a state tournament berth, while Brantley won a pair of games at a tournament in Dothan and despite its less than impressive record is still very much a 1A title contender, Kinston won three games at a tournament in Andalusia and is no doubt playing its best ball of the season at just the right time, and New Brockton won two games over the weekend to pump life into the Lady Gamecocks with the area tournament coming up. With the playoffs beginning this week in baseball and the area tournaments just a week away in softball, I urge all fans to get out of the house and support your teams. They certainly deserve it!

 Elba running back Alvin Henderson ended months of guessing by area football fans last week when he committed to Penn State. The commitment to the Nittany Lions came as a surprise to many, but not to the folks up in 'Happy Valley,' which reported earlier in the week that he had chosen Penn State. Reports are that Alvin told the folks at Penn State that he still intended to make some more official visits to other colleges, which may mean the Tiger standout could still change his mind before signing next winter. Since most Elba Tiger fans don't believe Henderson will actually go to Penn State, I guess that means the guessing game will go on for many more months.

 In closing.... Alabama held its annual spring football game last weekend in front of over 70,000 Crimson Tide fans, and while the grass on the field didn't look good, the play on the field was impressive with the newly installed offense rolling up and down the field in the first half behind the play of its running backs and strong-armed quarterbacks. I know several players will probably head out this week to enter the portal and others will head to T-town to join the Tide, but it was evident last weekend that there is still plenty of excitement at Alabama even with the new coaching staff in place. I just hope there is as much excitement next season. Roll Tide!

Sweep Pleasant Home

Elba Tigers extend winning streak

The Elba Tigers ran their winning streak to six games last week with a 10-0, 16-4 area sweep over the Pleasant Home Eagles.

The Tigers hosted the Eagles on Tuesday night and rode the pitching of Ty Sieving and a 6-run outburst in the third inning to roll to an impressive 10-0 win. A leadoff single by Jaden baker in the third inning ignited the Elba fireworks, while Powell Bane added an rbi single and circled the bases and Brayden Johnson ripped a bases-loaded triple and later scored on an error as the Tigers took charge. Cameron Gray was hit by a pitch to lead off the fourth and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jay Wilson to up the lead to 7-0, and Gray added an rbi hit in the fifth as the Tigers took command and posted the big area win.

Powell Bane had 1 hit, scored 2 runs and had 2 rbi's to lead Elba at the plate, while Brayden Johnson added 1 hit, scored 1 run and had 3 rbi's; Cameron Gray added 1 hit, scored 2 runs and had 1 rbi; Colin Arnold added 1 hit, scored 1 run and had 1 rbi; and, Jaden Baker added 1 hit and scored 1 run.

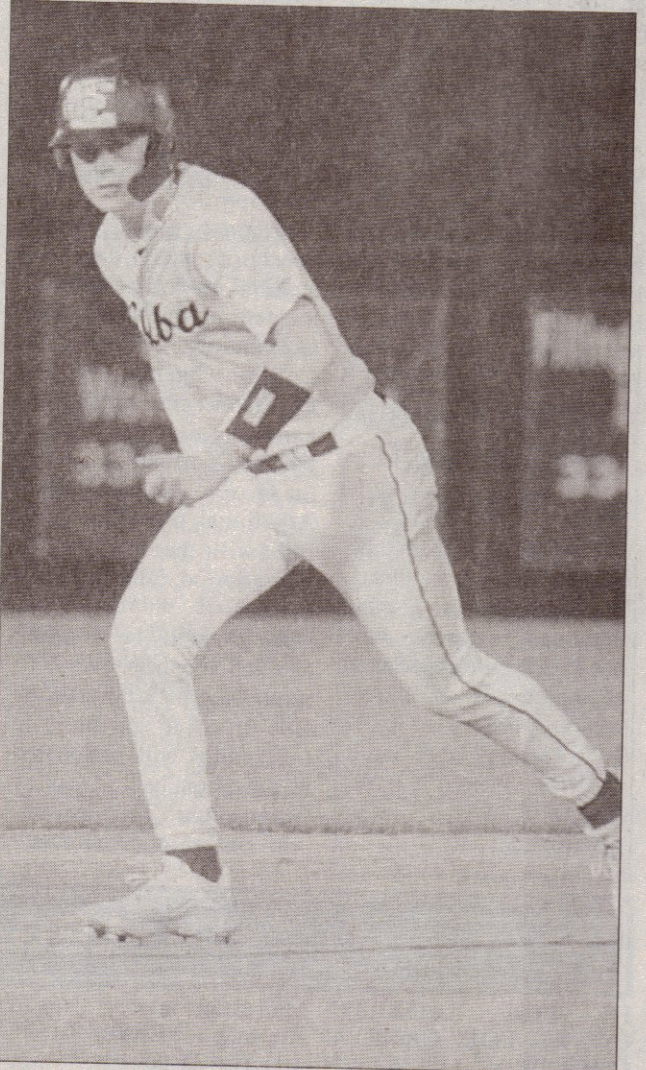

Ty Sieving pitched a complete game shutout and allowed only five hits, with seven strikeouts.

The Tigers traveled to Pleasant Home on Thursday night and scored 5 runs in both the fifth and sixth innings to pull away and drop the Eagles 16-4.

Two walks, a hit batter and a bases loaded double by Easton McKelvy sparked an early Elba outburst that out the Tigers on top 3-0 in the opening inning. However, the Tigers failed to score in the second and third and watched as Pleasant Home pulled within 3-2 heading into the fourth. An rbi double by Cameron Gray sparked a five-run fourth inning rally which was aided by a number of Eagle errors, while a bunt single by Colin Arnold sparked the fifth inning fireworks that were aided by an rbi single by Cameron Gray and was helped by three hit batters and two more Eagle errors. Elba closed out the scoring and the game in the sixth inning on a solo home run by Cameron Gray and an rbi single by Ty Sieving to complete the two game series sweep.

Cameron Gray had 3 hits, scored 3 runs and had 2 rbi's to lead Elba at the plate, while Jay Wilson added 1 hit, scored 4 runs and had 1 rbi; Ty Sieving added 1 hit, scored 3 runs and had 2 rbi's; Easton McKelvy added 1 hit and 2 rbi's; and, Brayden Johnson and Colin Arnold both added 1 hit and scored 1 run.

Cameron Gray pitched five innings and allowed one earned run on five hits, while striking out six, to get the win on the mound, while Colin Arnold pitched one inning and allowed one earned run on three walks.

Lady Tigers swing big sticks in 12-2 victory over Goshen

The Elba Lady Tigers traveled to Goshen last Thursday afternoon and came home after claiming a solid 12-1 win over the Goshen Lady Eagles.

Elba wasted little time taking command in the game as Destinee Tidwell led off with a single and Kaleigh Russell and Danielle Tidwell both walked to load the bases with no outs. Ana Caldwell followed with a line drive to the fence that drove in all three Lady Tiger base runners, and Mary B. O'Neal followed with an rbi single to put Elba on top 4-0 after five batters. A single by Lady Stinson drove in courtesy runner Hillary Hudson, and an inside the park home run by A'Lyric Whitfield pushed the lead to 7-0 as the Lady Tigers took command early.

A leadoff single by Danielle Tidwell in the second sparked a 3-run outburst as the Lady Tigers upped their advantage to 10-0. Tidwell scored on an rbi single by Mary B. O'Neal, and A'Lyric Whitfield blasted a two-run homer into the trees behind the left field fence as Elba continued to light up the scoreboard.

Elba's lead grew to 12-0 in the top of the third on a single by Destinee Tidwell, an rbi triple by Danielle Tidwell and an rbi single by Ana Caldwell, and while the Lady Tigers failed to score in the final two frames they never lost command and posted the 12-1 win, in five innings.

A'Lyric Whitfield hit two home-runs, scored 2 runs and knocked in 4 runs to lead Elba at the plate, while Danielle Tidwell added 2 hits, scored 3 runs and had 1 rbi; Ana Caldwell added 2 hits, scored 1 run and had 3 rbi's; Destinee Tidwell added 2 hits and scored 2 runs; Mary O'Neal added 2 hits and 1 rbi; Lady Stinson added 1 hit, scored 1 run and had 1 rbi; Haley Tucker added 1 hit; and, Kaleigh Russell scored 1 run.

Mary B. O'Neal pitched five innings and allowed one earned run on two hits and two walks, while striking out three.

Elba Tiger Alvin Henderson was dressed in Penn State attire last week after committing to the Nittany Lions at a ceremony at Elba High.

Alvin Henderson picks Penn State

"Hey, Nittany Lions, I'm coming home!"

With those words spoken in front of nationwide recruiting services and anxious collegiate football coaches and fans, Elba Tiger running back Alvin Henderson ended months of speculation last week when he announced he was committed to continuing his football career at Penn State University.

Henderson, ranked as the #3 running back and #36 overall high school player in the nation in the 2025 class, had narrowed down his list of 74 offers to a final five of Penn State, Auburn, Oregon, Florida State and Miami, and committed to the Nittany Lions over other such collegiate powers as Alabama, Georgia, Ohio State, Notre Dame, Texas and Southern Cal.

"The main thing I love about Penn State is they develop their running backs," stated Henderson, after the signing ceremony at Elba High School, on Thursday, April 11. "I feel it is a better place for me to go being from Alabama. I want to try something new, continue my career in college and dominate on the field the way I have in high school. The final two were Penn State and Auburn. A few boxes outweighed other schools and when me and my family sat down and talked we agreed Penn State was the best overall fit."

Henderson, 5'9", 198, set numerous state records as a junior at Elba High in helping the Tigers reached the semifinals of the Class 1A playoffs. The junior standout rushed for 3,523 yards and 61 touchdowns, averaged 15.7 yards per carry, caught 5 passes for 124 yards and 1 touchdown, passed for 119 yards and 1 touchdown, and added 5 touchdowns on special teams.

Elba Lady Tigers drop area clash in 18-3 home field loss to Kinston

The Elba Lady Tigers suffered their first loss of the season last Tuesday night in an 18-3 setback to the Kinston Lady Bulldogs.

The score was tied at 0-0 after two innings as Elba's Ayrika Caldwell and Kinston's Lilli Sumblin were locked in a pitching duel. However, while the Lady Tigers out-hit the Lady Bulldogs 8-3 in the game, Kinston took advantage of 14 walks, two hit batters and five Elba errors to pile up the runs and claim the area win.

Destinee Tidwell had 3 hits and scored 2 runs to lead Elba at the plate, while Ana Caldwell added 2 hits and scored 1 run, Kaleigh Russell and Danielle Tidwell both added 1 hit and 1 rbi, and A'Lyric Whitfield added 1 hit. Ayrika Caldwell pitched seven innings and allowed 11 earned runs on three hits and 14 walks, while recording 15 strikeouts.

Lyla Bruce had 2 hits, scored 3 runs, had 2 rbi's and stole 5 bases to lead Kinston, while Bella Lashley added 1 hit and scored 2 runs, Madisyn Jones scored 3 runs, and Brynne Kelley and Lauren Norris both scored 2 runs. Lilli Sumblin pitched seven innings and allowed two earned runs on eight hits and two walks, while striking out 14.
